

Gender in Language Education

A FREE online course starting on 8 March 2021

Gender in Language Education is a practical awareness raising course for educators and all with interest in education.

There are three modules, with a total of nine hours of learning.

This free and flexible course allows you to choose the modules that are relevant to you.

It is all online with comprehensive resources, videos, Q&A sessions and practical examples.

By the end of the modules you will have:

- Understood and learned about...
 - ways we perceive gender differences in the classroom
 - assumptions about the differences between boys and girls
 - different kinds of gender bias and stereotypes in education
 - progress and developments in gender equality in education
- Recognised, evaluated and implemented changes around gender issues in the classroom
- The ability to explain and mitigate barriers people face in gender equality and equity within education.

To find out more please see here and register:
<https://www.teachingenglish.org.uk/training>