

Centre of English Studies Direct Learning

CES Direct Learning is your platform for self-study and self-directed learning. We offer a range of courses at a variety of levels, all packaged in affordable, accessible lesson bundles. These lessons are designed based on the curriculum framework at CES and will help to guide you through the key language points and skills at every level of your development.

The Aim of the Direct Learning Project

This project was partly borne out of the PRELIM project, a collaboration between CES, IATEFL, NILE, EUK, the British Council, and the national ETA in Uzbekistan. This project showed us how effective an asynchronous, guided, language-development and teacher-training platform could be for providing inclusive and accessible education to students and teachers in their own context. With CES Direct Learning, we want to ensure that we are able to provide access to a level of quality in education that might hitherto have been unavailable. To that end, we are looking to collaborate with organisations and teachers all over the world in the creation and delivery of relevant and useful course material.

Key Points

- English Language Courses at a range of levels
- Business English, EAP, and Exam preparation
- A range of Teacher Training courses

Why Participate?

The CES Direct Learning platform provides teachers and students with a unique opportunity to take control of their own education and development with access to instruction and content from the courses that we typically run face-to-face in CES. Each course has six lesson with video content, instruction, and material for the participant to complete and use as a guideline for development. In addition, each course utilises the A1 platform Nualang to provide a practice session for the lessons learned. Your participation and feedback will also help to make the courses more relevant and, in the long term, affordable for all teachers, regardless of their context.
